

Clean Run®

THE MAGAZINE FOR DOG AGILITY ENTHUSIASTS

DECEMBER 08

VOLUME 14

NUMBER 12

19 Think Outside the Box (and the Ring)

What you do (or don't do) outside the agility ring enters the ring with you. Your warm-up routine and your activities at the trial are key to how you and your dog perform in the ring. By Rachel Tabor Flatley

45 Foundation Fundamentals: Flatwork Skills Wrap-up

In her final article, the author reviews and summarizes the flatwork foundation skills she thinks are critical to train before starting a young dog on equipment or sequencing. By Mary Ellen Barry

52 So You Want to Raise an Agility Star

So, you're not a professional agility competitor with coaches, seminars, and camps at your immediate disposal. That's okay—it doesn't matter. You can still raise an agility star. By Mark Dillemath

Features

5 Editorializing: Just One More Run

Do you believe the dogs that have passed on are at the Rainbow Bridge? Since the law of conservation of energy is real, could those dogs be gone, or is their energy still around to help us? By Carole Evans

16 Cece's Gym Exercise of the Month: Treadmill Walking

With winter here, a treadmill is a useful tool for maintaining performance dogs' fitness level and providing physical exercise on a regular basis. Treadmill walking also is an excellent cross-training activity for most other dogs in the household. By Debbie Gross Saunders DPT, MSPT, OCS, CCRP

22 Handling Your Dog in Awesome Style, Part 9: Common Sequences

This month we learn how to apply Linda's handling system to cue a chosen strategy for common sequences encountered on course. By Linda Mecklenburg

31 Agility Class Etiquette

Here are some guidelines to help newcomers to agility classes feel at home and to help current novice students be confident that your class manners are impeccable. By Tom Francis and the Windy City Agility Club Instructors

42 K9 Kudos: Seeing Spots

Meet Jane Winkler, who has been successful with variety of Dalmatians, a breed some have described as hard to train. Over the past 12 years, Jane has rescued, rehabilitated, and re-homed over 120 "Spotty Bodies." By Martha Faulk

57 Canine Health Care: FAQs

By understanding the basic science behind feeding your dog, you can make diet decisions that can help maximize your dog's performance at agility trials. By Julie A. Roos, DVM

59 Conquering Ring Nerves: Feeling Overwhelmed by Big Goals? Small Steps Lead to Big Victories

To have dreams, to turn those dreams into big goals, and to eventually make those goals your reality is important. But the key to achieving your dreams is to break larger goals into small manageable steps, which will also help you stop feeling overwhelmed and unable to begin. By Diane Peters Mayer

79 Using Silent Running to Improve Body Language

With patience and practice, running your dog with no verbal cues and focusing on giving the appropriate body language cues can transform your runs from frenetic to focused. By Cindy Brick

Columns

6 Tip of the Month By Lisa Barrett

7 Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Agility... By Brenna Fender

8 Backyard Dogs By Mary Ellen Barry

68 Skill of the Month By Karen Holik

75 Agility Organization Update

82 Letter to the Editor By Suzi Metz

82 Course Diagram Keys

Cover

12 Trainer's Forum

Does your dog always cross behind you in certain situations or at particular obstacles when you're running a course? A group of trainers explain how to train your dog to work at your side and discourage him from changing sides without a cue. By Brenna Fender

35 When Pigs Fly: Teaching the Front Cross, Part 1

This month we'll cover some of the fundamentals of training a Pigs Fly dog to do a front cross, from definition to training your dog to recognize your front-cross cue. By Jane Killion

65 Retraining Agility Skills

Deciding whether to retrain agility skills can be difficult, whether it's a contact behavior or a start-line stay. No matter which skill needs retraining, it can be a complicated process. By Roxanne Hawn

72 Walking the Course... Backward?

Need a reliable method of walking an agility course that will help you be more successful in handling the most difficult challenges on the course? Look no further—just walk your course backward. By Debbie Sacerich

Cover Dog

Ch Britannia Flashback, MX, MXJ, XF, CD, RE, HSA, OAC, OJ, OGC, TN-O, TG-N, WV-N, a.k.a. Flash. A 6-year-old Bearded Collie owned, trained, and handled by Joanne Williamson of Massachusetts; and co-owned by Michele Ritter. Photo by Lesley Mattuchio

Clean Run (ISSN 1089-8506) is published monthly by Clean Run Productions, LLC. Principal office: 17 Industrial Dr., South Hadley, MA 01075. Periodicals postage paid at South Hadley, Massachusetts 01075-9902 and additional offices. © Copyright 1995-2008 Bud Houston and Clean Run Productions, LLC. All world rights reserved. Reproduction in whole or in part without written permission is prohibited. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Clean Run, 17 Industrial Dr., South Hadley, MA 01075.