

Clean Run®

THE MAGAZINE FOR DOG AGILITY ENTHUSIASTS

AUGUST 11 VOLUME 17 NUMBER 08

PHOTOS © DONNA STOCK-HEDRICK, KRISTEN VANNESS, CLEAN RUN

46 Proof Positive: Age is Just a Number
Aging agility handlers are a phenomenon that seems to be increasing, not decreasing. Competing against much younger handlers each weekend, these seniors certainly don't "act their age." Do they have the gift of long-lasting youth and health, or does agility help keep them young? By Juliet Franzen

54 Is Offering an On-leash Agility Class Appropriate for Your Business?
Not all dogs have a suitable temperament for a group agility class. Here's how one training facility created a class to give these dogs a safe way to participate in agility. By Kristen VanNess KPA-CTP and Sarah Keegans CPDT-KA, CAP2

73 10 Agility Games to Play with Your Dog
Agility training is hard work, and sometimes it's hard to keep training fun. Here are 10 games that don't involve any agility equipment and that are designed to help develop speed and coordination while giving your dog a good dose of fun. By Kea Grace

Features

5 Editorializing: Why Does the Sun Go On Shining?

Agility gives us the opportunity to work with our dogs as a team, and develop a close personal relationship with them. By Jim Peterson

11 Building and Balancing Handler and Obstacle Focus, Part 5

This month we'll work on building and balancing our dog's handler and obstacle focus while performing the contact obstacles. By Ann Croft

30 Challenges at CR Central

Snooker is an excellent training game to challenge a handler's concentration, handling skills, and ability to think and execute. By Annie Pyle

36 Challenges for Rising Stars

This extended-length version of Stuart Mah's 30-second drill will help improve handlers' ability to adjust to changing conditions as well as their situational awareness. By Stuart Mah

44 Ready, Set, Trial! After the Run

It doesn't matter which routine you use to reconnect with your dog at the end of an agility run; what's important is that it is enjoyable for the dog. By Jamie McKay, CPDT KA

52 Teaching FOCUS and Impulse-control Classes: Week 4

We will continue increasing challenges and raising our criteria for successful performance. By Deborah Jones, PhD

56 Finessing Your Front Crosses

The simple approach to practicing front crosses shown here will enable you to rotate smoothly and efficiently through your front crosses while also allowing you to run in the right direction. By Blake Stafford

60 Command and Control: Raising Your New Pup

Make bonding with your new puppy and training essential household commands your highest priority. By Fred Brattain

62 Handling for Maximum Performance

Depending on the dog's natural working level of drive and speed, many dogs can benefit from different styles of handling to help them reach that optimal level. By Bud Houston

68 Three Stones of Praise

We live in clicker times, where the perfect reward is thought to be the sound of a click followed by a treat. But don't overlook the necessity and advantages of a verbal reward. By Marie Hansson

77 Protect the Future of Our Sport: Keep It Positive

Novice exhibitors can be a challenge, but they shouldn't be treated with disdain for not understanding trial protocol at first. Everyone volunteering at trials, from the trial secretary, to the ring stewards, needs to keep in mind the same mantra we train with: "Always keep it positive." By Donna Somers

Columns

6 Tip of the Month By Diane Weisbrodt

7 Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Agility... By Brenna Fender

8 Backyard Dogs By Mary Ellen Barry

35 Agility Bloopers By Brenna Fender

Cover

14 Running Contacts:

Should I or Shouldn't I?

Agility classes are won and placements are made on hundredths of a second. So, for anyone who wants to win, driving to the bottom of the contacts without stopping—or even decelerating—offers an obvious advantage. Or does it? By Sally Silverman

19 Acceleration and Deceleration Cues: Teaching the Basics

Teach your dog how to drive ahead on straight lines when you want him to, and also how to dig in and turn tight when that is what you want. By Laura Manchester-Derrett

25 Control Unleashed® Case Study: The Look at That Game

Is your dog reactive to motion? Does he have trouble in group agility classes or at agility trials because he turns into a Tasmanian devil when he sees other dogs running, tugging, or doing obstacles? If that sounds familiar, then this article is for you. By Leslie McDevitt

38 Need an Extra Hand? Using Remote Treat-dispensing Devices Effectively

Most of us do at least some of our training alone, and we often wish we had an assistant or at least an extra pair of hands. The Manners Minder and Ready Treat are two remote treat-dispensing devices that can really help you be more effective. Here are some ideas for incorporating them into your agility training. By Frankie Sassie Joiris

Cover Dog

Mirage MX, MXJ, AD, an 8-year-old Border Collie owned by Cathy Thomas of Wisconsin. Photo by Alissa Behn, pet-personalities.com.

Clean Run (ISSN 1089-8506) is published monthly by Clean Run Productions, LLC. Principal office: 17 Industrial Dr., South Hadley, MA 01075. Periodicals postage paid at South Hadley, Massachusetts 01075-9902 and additional offices. © Copyright 1995-2011 Bud Houston and Clean Run Productions, LLC. All world rights reserved. Reproduction in whole or in part without written permission is prohibited. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Clean Run, 17 Industrial Dr., South Hadley, MA 01075.