

PHOTOS © MIA GRANT, CHANCE FELISKY-SWIFTRUN PHOTOGRAPHY, AUSEEZ PHOTOGRAPHY, LAURA HARTWICK

On the Cover

- 6 Driving from Behind: Skills and Drills to Improve Rear Crosses
Poorly performed rear crosses can cause bars to fall and dogs to turn the wrong way on landing (which can lead to backjumps). Try out these exercises to work on getting your dog to drive ahead and your rear cross timing. By Cynthia Hornor
- 13 Houston, Weave Got a Problem
Weave poles are often a large point of struggle for many teams. Let's look at some of the most common weave problems and how to work on them. By Megan Foster
- 22 Picking a Puppy: Ready for a Surprise?
Regardless of how much research you do on a breeding, puppies are living beings who come with a unique and complicated genetic map. Their genes affect their interaction with the environment, and environmental experiences affect gene expression. By Holly K. Krueger, Ph.D.
- 31 The Three Hats of Agility, Part 2: The Trainer's Hat
Non-judgmental, realistic self-assessment is essential to improve in agility. This month learn how to identify your strengths and weaknesses as a trainer. By Sandy Rogers

Features

- 4 Tip of the Month – Turn your Lotus Ball into a tug toy with a handle. By Miranda Jones
- 5 Editorializing: January 2020 – So, 2020 is the beginning of a new decade. 20/20 also stands for perfect eyesight. What do you need to take a closer look at this year? By Brenna Fender

Cover Dog

C-ATCH, MACH Amber MX, MXB, MXJ, MJS, an approximately 6.5-year-old All-American owned by Tracy Beck of Wisconsin. Photo by Alissa Behn, pet-personalities.com

- 11 Let's Talk About... Whether You're Competitive – Unless you're a professional athlete, competitiveness has become politically incorrect, but failure to admit our competitive feelings can lead to cynicism. Admitting that you are competitive will enable you to use it as an advantage. By Forest Hudson
- 24 Do You Think Like a Competitor or a Trainer? – Not always, but sometimes, this is the big difference between someone who primarily thinks like a competitor and someone who thinks like a trainer. By Denny Emerson, Tamarack Hill Farm
- 25 Power Paws Drills: Winter Warm-Up – This month's setup has lots of options for doing challenging drills appropriate for different levels. By Nancy Gyes
- 35 The Obstacle Is the Path: Mastering the Game of Snooker – One of the many skills that Snooker tests is the ability to define a path through an opening sequence that does not always seem logical to the dog. Contrary to what many dogs might think, the obstacles don't define the path, the handler does! By Annie Pyle
- 40 The 25% Solution: Sequences for Small Spaces – This month learn a technique to help your course memorization and planning, as well as practice some demanding weave pole entries. By John Reid
- 42 When to Retire Your Dog from Agility? – When to retire your dog from agility (or any sport) can be a difficult decision to make. What factors should you consider when making this decision? By Lisa Schmit, PhD, CCFT, CPMP
- 44 Backyard Dogs – This month's exercises allow you to work on obstacle-focus skills as you also train some distance work with directional control, obstacle discrimination, and contact/weave performance challenges. By David Bozak
- 47 Beginning Sequencing with Backsides – Once your training on individual obstacles is done, it's time to start sequencing! Here we'll discuss introducing backsides into sequences as well as provide many sequences to try on your own. By Jo Sermon